

When a Danube tells a story

Belgrade – Smederevo fortress – Viminacium – Golubac fortress – Lepenski vir – Belgrade

Eastern Serbia compared to other regions in Serbia, the eastern, partly dominated by the Carpathian mountains, is less known and visited, although it possesses unbelievable and wild natural beauty. The most famous natural attraction is certainly the greatest gorge in Europe, Djerdap, compressing the powerful flow of the Danube river in only 150 m wide gorge at the spot called Kazan. Due to its natural specificity, Djerdap is protected as a national park.
