This interesting country occupies the southern part of Europe and, due to its incredible wild nature, presents a pearl of the Balkan Peninsula.

A relatively small area has been "mercilessly" rewarded by nature with all kinds of beauty, so it is interesting to everyone, especially lovers of wild nature, which makes it a real tourist destination.

The natural beauty of Montenegro, the beauty of its mountains, rivers, canyons, lakes, forests, cities, the Adriatic coast - make it special and exceptional. It is so small, so they say that you can visit all country in a week, but if its hills were "flattened out" - it would be the largest country in the world!

And one more thing - this is the only country in the world that, due to its natural beauty, could be declared as a national nature park under the protection of UNESCO. So far it has been done with 50% of its territory!
